

Investigator Certification

Investigator Certification

Who must certify?

All UMD Investigators must certify the proposal/proposed agreement. This includes PI, Co-PI, Multi-PI, etc.

Non-UMD personnel, and any personnel with the role of Key Person, do not need to certify the proposal.

When must a proposal be certified?

A proposal must be certified before the proposal may be routed for approval. The proposal creator may notify the investigator once the investigator has been added to the proposal.

Can certification be delegated?

No. The investigator must log in with his/her UMD directory ID and password to access the proposal and certification questions.

How will this happen?

Proposal Creator creates proposal and sends notice from KR to Investigator.

Investigator receives email notice. Clicks on link to open questions. Opens another tab to search for and review proposal.

Investigator reviews and completes questions.

Once all investigators have completed certification questions, system notifies proposal creator.

Proposal can not be routed for approval until all UMD investigators have certified.
